LAST YEAR we urged the relinquishment of the tax on whisky, distinctly on the ground that it was not fairly enforced, and hence its existence tended to drive honorable dealers to the wall. Congress insisted the evil could and should be remedied, but the case is worse now than it was before. The government is robbed of $100,000,000 annually, a vast amount of perjury is produced, and a large number of government officials are thoroughly corrupted. The mischiefs resulting from the tax, altogether outweigh the money the government gets by means of it, even resolving the money into coppers.

This case came under our observation recently, but not in either of the districts covering portions of this county. A Deputy Collector ascertained that a brewer had a still at work elicitly on his premises, and seized the whole establishment, notifying his superior. In due time the case reached the Court. The brewer secured the help of a few politicians, and soon the Deputy Collector received notice that the complaint had been adjusted, and that he was expected to turn back to the brewer all the property seized, including the still. The brewer's friends stated that this dextrous arrangement cost him only $2,000. This is only one instance, to be sure. But in this matter of the whisky tax, fraud is the rule, and honesty the exception, all round. In European countries no such facts are developed, and in most of them spirits are made to bear a large share of all public burdens. Is the difficulty here in the men selected for revenue officers, and for officers of the federal courts? Does culpability in these departments induce a larger portion of dishonest men to engage in the liquor business here than elsewhere? It is full time the enigma was solved and an adequate remedy provided.

MR. SENATOR BUCKALEW is exercised as to the importance of devising a plan whereby minorities can be represented. We beg to suggest that, before the Radicals interfered with it, the British system secured representation to minorities, and did the job more effectually than any other that has been devised.

When the Democrats had what they conceived to be the permanent control of this country, and of most of the States therein, they scoffed at the idea of having minorities represented. In those days Mr. Buckalew was a member of the Pennsylvania Senate, and plumed himself on his skill in tinkering Constitutions so as to adjust the powers of the people most satisfactorily. Some of the schemes which were adopted, the people would gladly be rid of. But Mr. Buckalew did not then think out a scheme by which the will of the majority should be frustrated by allowing minorities to be represented. He would not concoct such a plan now, if he did not believe he and his were permanently banished from power.

THE Republican party has become a power in the Southern States. Every day the disposition of the white people to act longer with the democratic party palpably diminishes. The Richmond Whig, edited by ex-Confederates, says:

"Recently there was no organized Republican party, in the extended sense of that term, in Virginia. Now there is, and it is a powerful and growing party, that has the countenance and confidence of Congress, and is in sympathy and affiliation with the dominant party of the North. Much of the best material in the State is co-operating with it. A large portion of the best intellect, as of the virtue of the State, is already pledged to this co-operation, and every day new accessions are made to it from the ranks of the solid people of Virginia."

The Abingdon Virginian says:

"The Democratic party ought to be disbanded, and never more named in the South. It ought to be disbanded everywhere."

These may be taken among the latest inclinations of the change that is going on.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin says:

"There was a balloon marriage a couple of years ago at the Central Park, New York, and as there never was a simpleton Jack that could not find a dunce of a Jill, or a first class fool of a Roland that could not be matched with an essential donkey of an Oliver, the balloon marriage mania has been imitated at Pittsburgh. Two simpletons of the Smoky City perpetrated matrimony in a balloon on a recent occasion, taking a knot tying Alderman aloft with them in the ærial car, and they plighted their troth to each other at the height of a hundred feet or so above terra firma."

The simpletons alluded to did not belong to our city. The æronaut searched the town in vain for a pair of fools, and rather than to have the novel entertainment prove a failure, visited Philadelphia, and with much ease procured a man willing to go up, while Ohio had to furnish the bride. The stock of fools here is not so large as elsewhere.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S attempt to frighten Congress out of its Reconstruction Policy by representing that if it shall be persisted in the general government will be answerable for the debts of the rebel States, does not seem to meet with any success. The democratic journals endeavor, by reiterating the President's arguments, to give them additional force; but all to no effect. Congress knows the government, in a matter of this sort, can be bound for no more than the Legislative department shall see proper to assume; and when the Seceding States shall be reorganized and restored, they will have all their former debts to pay, the creditors having the same security they had before, and no more.

BRIGHAM AND JOHN W. YOUNG, heirs of old Brigham, were in Philadelphia on Monday making arrangements for the transportation of twenty thousand converts to Mormonism expected shortly from Europe.

A RESPECTABLE young gentleman of St. Louis made a third and successful attempt at suicide on Monday last. Because he was respectable the journals of that city refuse to publish his name.

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT yields to necessity. It declares it is indifferent as to German unity. It is a rare gift to accept an event with complacency which cannot be prevented.

HAVING disposed of Maximilian, the Mexicans are falling upon each other. Tamaulipas has been declared an independent government, and a similar fate is awaiting Tampico.

SECRETARY SEWARD has addressed a letter to Mr. Flanders, as Governor of Louisiana, thus acknowledging his position under appointment by Gen. Sheridan.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, is about to be supplied with horse railways, a number of capitalists having subscribed the necessary amount of money for the enterprise.

ST. LOUIS is awakening to the decline in her business, and is looking about to improve the system upon which it is managed. The Democrat looks the question square in the face and says:

"The plain truth is, that St. Louis has the old fogy Southern notion of business. To do a little business and make a big profit on it, will answer when you have Southern planters to deal with, and when they cannot deal anywhere else. To run a railroad so as to put all the money into the pockets of individuals, and keep the corporation heavily in debt, may answer if there is no competition. For a quarter of a century, St. Louis had a monopoly of the trade of a vast region at the West. Her merchants learned to charge enormous prices, and her business men generally were educated to regard competition as an impossibility. We doubt if they will ever wake up to the fact that a grasping disposition is driving all trade away from this city to its rivals. Perhaps another generation, with less to forget, may learn more."

BEREZOWSKI, the Pole, who tried to kill the Czar of Russia in Paris, has been tried and found "guilty, with extenuating circumstances," and has been sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for life. Perhaps the "extenuating circumstances" consisted in the folly of the man in attempting to kill two royal birds with one bullet.

ARTICLES of impeachment are to be at once reported to the Philadelphia Councils, by the Special Committee appointed to examine into the conduct of Assessor OVENS, the alleged murderer of Col. WILLIAM RIDDLE.

Curious Case of Wife Desertion.

Sometime last fall a man and his wife came to Bay City, Michigan, from Columbus, St. Clair county; the man is a laborer, and the lady who shared his fortunes here, is a second wife. The man found ready work and the family flourished. A month or two since a nice looking boy, apparently about nineteen years of age, came into the family circle, claiming to be the son of the lord of the house by his former wife, and as such the lady of the house, who knew nothing of her predecessor, showered her kind attentions and care upon the visiting son. All went well for a month or more, when, to the horror of the lady in question, she discovered that her husband had sold everything he could, and had left the country with his "son," which person the wife found not only to be not her step-son, but indeed not a boy, but a young lady, fond of her husband, and romantic and unscrupulous enough to live more than a month with him, representing herself to be his son, and finally to depart with him for parts as yet unknown. The wife of this man is left in destitute circumstances, and is now seeking means with which to return to her former home.—Detroit Post.

NEW STYLES OF PHOTOGRAPHS.—A French artist has contrived a way of taking a number of successive photographs of the same sitter, so as to reproduce him when moving. The camera is provided with a certain number of object-glasses, all corresponding with diaphragms of proper dimensions behind. Before the operation begins all the object-glasses are covered with a thick curtain, which will roll up instantaneously like those of a carriage window by touching a spring, but the motion may be regulated at will. As the curtain rises it presents a round hole to each object-glass in succession, so that each receives the image at a different moment. All these images, each representing a somewhat different attitude, are successively thrown on the same sensitized plate, whereby a whole series of different photographs of the same person are obtained.

—A farmer in the State of Connecticut has a pair of twin daughters. They both attend the same school, and not long since one of them, who is averse to studying, was called up by the teacher to recite a lesson in geography, which she had learned very imperfectly—in fact, she could not go on at all. The teacher was getting out of patience, when he was called to another part of the room for a moment. No sooner was his back turned, when the twin sister sprang to the floor, unobserved, and pushed the delinquent pupil to her seat. The teacher returned and proceeded with his questions, which were answered with a degree of promptness and accuracy which, at the close, drew from him a few words of commendation. The joke, however, was discovered the next day, but the teacher thought it too good and successful to give occasion for offense.

—Home, the spiritualist, who was some time ago adopted as a son by a Mrs. Lyon, who had been made a fanatic by the latest pretended religion, and who had advanced Home £24,000 as a present, is in trouble. Mrs. Lyon has since thought better of it, and is disposed to rid herself of her adopted son. She consulted another medium, a young girl, who told her Home was attended by a "familiar spirit" who had influenced Mrs. Lyon to make him her son. The messenger from the spheres, speaking through the medium, recommended the very worldly proceeding of a suit for the recovery of the money advanced. Mrs. Lyon accepted the advice and took the unspiritual step of having Home arrested and put in jail in London. He got out speedily, but has since been quite ill.

—Referring to the inscription designed to perpetuate the name and illustrate the virtues of Prince Albert, the London correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says: "It is impossible to read all these sacred attributes, thus to be handed down to posterity in imperishable marble, as belonging to the Prince Consort, without coming to the conclusion that the widowed Queen, even at this distance of time from her husband's decease, is a monomaniac on the subject of his character, and that long and solitary brooding over one idea has narrowed her mental powers. It would not be at all impossible if this were to result in insanity, which often follows in similar cases."

THE St. Louis Democrat remarks: "Dr. Robert Hunt, whose death was mentioned in our Chicago special yesterday morning, was the husband of Mrs. Sallie Ward Hunt, of Kentucky. Sallie Ward was a famous belle in her younger days. It will be remembered that her first husband was T. Bigelow Lawrence, of Massachusetts, son of Abbott Lawrence, formerly Minister to England. Shortly after the marriage they separated and the country was full of the scandal of the case. Dr. Hunt was a gentleman of fortune and accomplishments, but addicted to strong drink."

—The Hoosac tunnel, it is now announced, is progressing favorably, and there are prospects of its completion, owing to the satisfactory results attending the new pneumatic drills and mode of blasting by electricity. The total length of heading opened is six thousand five hundred feet. The central shaft has been sunk to the depth of five hundred feet, or more than half way, and the new contractors pledged themselves to complete the tunnel two thousand five hundred feet further into the heart of the mountain, and to sink the central shaft to grade, within two years.

—A good story is told of a distinguished mathematician in the army, remarkable for a want of practical judgment, sometimes seen in other mathematicians. This officer was ordered to construct a bridge over a creek somewhere in the Southern country. He built it, worked out the arch by mathematical formulas. When it was done, the bridge was found to be under water. He being called to explain, said, "Oh, the work is all right, only I used the minus sign instead of the plus!"

—The Committee on the Treatment of Union Prisoners will take evidence in the Northern States during the summer, making the point at which some member will be present and the time known, that all soldiers and others having information on the subject in hand can communicate it. In the fall the whole Committee will go South to the various prison pens. The rebel archives, as arranged and collected by Dr. Lieber, will be placed at the disposal of the Committee.

—It is asserted that the assessed value of real estate in Philadelphia under the new system of fixing real instead of fictitious values to property will exceed $500,000,000, so that a tax rate of $1.30 on the $100 will produce more revenue than the present rate of $4 on the old assessment.

—In consideration of distinguished public services, Aristarchi Bey, ex-Governor of Samos, now a member of the Grand Council, has received the title of Prince. This distinction is the first, and as yet only one, of its kind in the Turkish hierarchy, into the nomenclature of which the new title has been specially adopted for the occasion.

—An English tavern-keeper recently illustrated punctuality in this wise. Speaking of one of his customers, he said: "He is the most regular man in Harwick; he comes and gets drunk every Saturday, and has done so for ten years, except when his mother died, and at that time he came on Sunday. It is a grand thing to be punctual."

—The New York Herald estimates the loss to the treasury annually at the enormous sum of two hundred million dollars, and says that it occurs in this way: by the failure to collect the tax on whiskey, tobacco and petroleum. It also asserts that there is a heavy drainage through the national banks and the frauds and incapacity of the revenue officers.

—An elegant monument to the memory of Robert Hooker Gillett, has just been erected in the Farmington Cemetery, Hartford. Capt. Gillett, son of the Hon. It has a head like an alligator, long nose, and a mouth filled with savage teeth.

—The health of Hon. John Bell is gradually failing. His mind is still clear, but the exhaustion of his physical system is extreme. He resides near the Cumberland Iron Works, in Tennessee, which were formerly a source of immense revenue to him. But the war wrecked his fortune, health, and social and political reputation, and the old man is passing away from a generation with which it is his misfortune that he has no sympathies.

—The Long Branch correspondent of a morning paper writes: "A romantic incident occurred the other day out on the water directly in front of our windows. Two strangers went out in a boat together and came back engaged. A remarkable case of love at first sight. The lady is a New York heiress, the gentleman a member of the literary persuasion." We don't advise the bachelor journalists of New York to hasten to the watering places on the strength of this story.

—A burlesque advertisement, popularly attributed to George Leland, was posted at Saratoga in the Union Hotel, announcing in the style of the great tobacco advertiser, that "in order to overcome a natural prejudice against the use of hash, the proprietor will on Monday place a two dollar and a half gold piece in a certain quantity of the hash; on Tuesday one-half that amount in two places; on Wednesday one-third of that amount in three places," and so on for a week.

The Democrats abused him before his election, and the Republicans since that event, so he had been abused all around.

Two Girls Murder Their Stepmother in Tennessee.

The Kingston East Tennessean gives the following particulars of a horrible affair which occurred in the Sixth Civil District of Roane county, Tenn., known as the Paint Rock District:

"It appears that a Mrs. Hicks and her two step-daughters, named respectively Mary and Keziah, had for some time lived unpleasantly together, when the two daughters determined to put her out of the way. Accordingly, with murderous intent, they forcibly conveyed their unfortunate victim to the smoke-house near by, and commenced a series of tortures that even the veriest savage would have shrunk back from and grown hideous at—such was the enormity of their barbarity and wickedness. They first attempted to strangle their victim to death, but failing in that, they bethought themselves of a more refined as well as expeditious mode of accomplishing their object, which was to pour melted lead into the ear of their helpless victim, and then to make assurance doubly sure, these daughters struck the prostrate and dying woman several blows on the head with an axe. Supposing the old lady dead or dying, they left their mother weltering in her blood and went to church.

Some of the neighbors soon after coming in found Mrs. Hicks, administered restoratives, and revived her sufficiently to relate the above detailed facts. We learn that Mrs. Hicks has since died of her injuries, and that the murderers are still at large, having secreted themselves so as to prevent the officers of the law from arresting them.

FIRST EDITION.

MIDNIGHT.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

THE DEFENSE ABOUT CLOSED.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 17, 1867.

After considerable argument on both sides, Judge Fisher ruled out the Matthews letter, saying it might have been the very object of the conspirators to thus screen some of the parties to the conspiracy by getting up this agreement.

Matthews was recalled and cross-examined, the witness explaining his testimony of yesterday. Some of the papers had stated he had said Booth had handed witness the letter with an air of great secrecy. He wished to say it was not so; there was no air of secrecy about the manner in which Booth handed witness the paper.

Gen. Thos. T. Eckert identified the Booth diary and the loose leaf containing a letter to Dr. Stewart, alluded to as in Booth's hand writing.

Detective Clarvy testified—The time of his transit from Albany to Montreal was nineteen hours, and from Montreal to New York twenty-three hours.

John T. Ford testified—Weichman told him in Carroll Prison that he had told the Secretary of War where John Surratt was at the time of the assassination. He said he had told him he was in Montreal.

At the instance of Mr. Pierrepont the Court ordered the question and answer about Montreal stricken out.

Witness resumed—Weichman told him Surratt was in Canada on the day of the assassination, because he had seen a dispatch from Surratt dated the 12th.

Jos. Maddox recalled—Witness was in Carroll prison with Weichman. Witness went with Weichman to the Windsor building where an examination was had.

Question—Did you hear an officer tell Weichman that if he didn't testify to more than he had he would hang him?

Mr. Carrington—I object. Your Honor has already ruled it out.

Court—You must put the question so as to make it apply to the trial.

Mr. Merrick stated he had no further witnesses to examine to-day. He had sent for a witness who had telegraphed he would be here to-night. He could now state to counsel on the other side that the defence expected to close their testimony to-morrow. The Court knew how the defence had been embarrassed in obtaining the presence of their witnesses here. It was a difficult matter to get witnesses here from British domains.

The Court acquiesced in the remarks. Recess until to-morrow.

FENIANISM.

Council at Buffalo—Another Raid Upon Canada Expected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Herald's Buffalo special says: General O'Neill, Colonel Hines, Senator Fitzgerald, Colonel Brennan, Vice President Gibbons and General Murphy arrived here last night. General O'Neill has been in consultation with a number of the military leaders of the organization.

The United States steamer Michigan arrived here yesterday.

Strangers are arriving from every section of the country to attend the pic-nic to-morrow.

The Canadian gunboat Cherub is at Fort Erie, watching the Fenian movements at Black Rock.

The Fenian Military Council, with delegates from different sections of the country, were in session in this city on Sunday to a late hour. Prominent members of the organization state that dispatches have been received from Roberts, which, when made public, will astonish the British Government. The circles in Cincinnati, Chicago, Memphis, New York and Rochester, are to be well represented on Wednesday.

A number of families residing at Fort Erie, who took an active part against the Fenians, have removed to the interior, expecting another raid on Wednesday night. The British Consul has requested the Canadian Government to station a regiment of regulars at Fort Erie during the present week.

BUFFALO, July 17.—The Fenian demonstration here to-day was a great success. Nearly five hundred Fenian soldiers turned out in procession, together with a large number of civilians from almost every quarter. Generals Spear and O'Neil and other notables were present.

FROM MEXICO.

Vessel Seized—Another Revolution—The Capture of Santa Anna.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 16.—The steamship Herdine, two and a half days from Tampico, arrived here yesterday. She was seized by the United States authorities, and awaits orders from the Treasury Department. Her officers report that Gomez and Canales were raising troops to capture Tampico. They utterly ignore Juarez, and will proclaim either themselves or Ortega at the head of the government; that Santa Anna had been taken out of the steamer Virginia, but the Mexican officers who made the arrest placed his sword under the American flag and walked under it instead of over it.

CONGRESS

In Extraordinary Session.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 17th, 1867.

SENATE.

Mr. WILSON introduced a joint resolution proposing the following amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

Article—No distinction shall be made by the United States, nor by any State, among citizens on their civil or political rights on account of race, color, or previous condition.

Ordered to be printed, and laid on the table.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill to carry into effect the Convention of the Republic of Venezuela. Passed.

Mr. SUMNER called up the bill introduced by him yesterday, providing that in the District of Columbia no person shall be disfranchised from holding office on account of race or color. It passed—yeas 25; nays 2.

On motion of Mr. POMEROY, the bill providing for the appointment of commissioners to select a reservation on which to locate Indian tribes, was taken up.

Mr. HARLAN did not believe Congress had any authority to appoint a Commission to make a treaty, and should move at the proper time to amend the bill by providing that the President shall appoint a Commission to make a treaty.

Mr. SHERMAN thought the only true solution for the Indian difficulties was to absorb the Indians in the general population.

Mr. POMEROY did not believe it possible to put all the Indians on one reservation, or on two. It would lead to interminable wars between the tribes. He thought it would do to select several reservations and locate different tribes on them. He coincided with Mr. Sherman's views.

Mr. HOWARD favored the appointment of Commissioners to confer with the Indians as friends, and with a view to bringing hostilities to a close. He did not believe it possible to civilize the Indians. He did not believe the Senate ought to attempt to settle the whole Indian question. It ought to legislate in reference to the hostile bands with a view to putting an end to the existing war. It would be time enough next winter to discuss the larger problem of the disposition of all the Indians.

Mr. MERRILL condemned the Indian policy of the Government as unjust and oppressive, tending only to rob the Indians of their houses and land. It would be impossible to absorb the Indians into the white population; that meant nothing but extermination. He appealed to the Senate to pass a law that would not be a rope of sand, to make an agreement and stand by it.

Mr. THAYER did not advocate the extermination of the Indians. No matter who was to blame for the difficulties existing, it was the duty of Congress to secure peace, if possible. It would be better to spend a million now than five hundred millions a year hence. The people of the border were not in favor of war. Speaking in behalf of every class of the community on the border, he would say nothing was so abhorrent as an Indian war. Even thieves and gamblers dreaded an Indian war. He was sorry to say there were thieves and gamblers on the frontier, but it was only because the people of Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis neglected to hang them.

A message was received from the House announcing its non-concurrence in the bill for the relief of deserters, and asking a Committee of Conference. The Senate adhered to its amendment, and the House must recede from its disagreement, or the bill fails.

Before adjournment the SPEAKER presented a report from the Secretary of the Interior on the subject of the Washington Monument Association. Laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. INGERSOLL moved to suspend the rules that he might introduce a bill to regulate the selection of officers in the city of Washington, making it the duty of the Mayor, Aldermen and Councilmen to assemble in Joint Convention, on the first Monday in August, and select, by ballot, all officers whose appointment was authorized by the charter, or law, or ordinance. The rules were suspended and the bill introduced and passed.

Mr. SCHENCK moved to suspend the rules to enable him to introduce a bill to restore the Bureau of Indian Affairs to the War Department. Before disposing of the motion,

The SPEAKER presented a message from the Senate, announcing that that body adhered to its amendments to the bill in reference to deserters.

On motion of Mr. ASHLEY, of Ohio, the House receded from its disagreement.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The SPEAKER presented a letter from the Secretary of the Navy, in reply to a resolution of the House, stating that the only officers of the navy on the active list, who have been fifty-five years or longer in service, are Admiral Farragut and Rear Admiral Goldsborough. As to the latter it has been a question which has given rise to correspondence. The communication was referred and the secretary called on for copies of the correspondence.

On motion of Mr. WASHBURN, of Wisconsin, the Court of Claims was asked for a list of its judgments since March 30, 1866.

Mr. COLBURN introduced a bill to provide for electors for President and Vice President of the United States in the States to be formed out of the territory included within the late Confederate States, except Tennessee. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. ASHLEY asked leave to introduce and have put on its passage, a bill providing for alternate sessions of the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Ohio, to be held annually, one in Cleveland and one in Toledo. Objected to and the bill not introduced.

On motion of Mr. COBB, the President was requested to communicate any information received at the Department touching the organization of parties for the real or pretended purpose of avenging the death of Maximilian, or interfering in Mexican affairs, and whether any measures have been taken to prevent such organization, or the sailing of such expedition.

Mr. BUTLER, in reference to an article in the National Intelligencer of yesterday, commenting on the statement that the rebel Commissioner of Exchange had offered to deliver up without equivalent two thousand Union prisoners of war, sick and wounded, which offer had been refused, denied the truth of the statement, and sent to the Clerk's desk and had read copies of letters and telegrams which passed on that subject.

Mr. BUTLER characterized the allegations in the article as untrue in fact, and untrue in inference.

Mr. JULIAN asked leave to offer the following:

Resolved, That the doctrine avowed by the President, in his message to Congress of the 15th inst., that the abrogation of rebel States bonds the nation to pay their debts incurred prior to the late rebellion, is at war with the principles of international law, a deliberate stab at national credit, abhorrent to every sentiment of loyalty, and well pleasing only to the vanquished traitors, to whose agency alone the government of said States were overthrown and discharged.

Mr. BARR objected.

Mr. JULIAN moved to suspend the rules, which was carried—78 against 18—and under the operation of the previous question the resolution was adopted—100 against 18—strict party vote.

Action was taken on several messages from the Senate.

The House non-concurred in the amendment to the act relative to reputed deserters, and asked a Committee of Conference.

The Senate bill for the further security of equal rights in the District of Columbia was slightly amended and referred to the Judiciary Committee, with leave to report at any time.

The Speaker announced the following Select Committee on Education in the District of Columbia: Messrs. Stevens, of Pa., Van Aernam, Williams, of Indiana, and Acker.

Additional members of Joint Select Committee on Retrenchment; Messrs. Jencks and Benjamin.

Mr. McCLURG asked leave to introduce a resolution authorizing the Committee on Southern Railroads to divide itself into sub-committees, to sit at several points, for the purpose of taking testimony.

Mr. BROOKS objected.

Mr. SELEYE asked leave to offer a preamble and resolution reciting the report of the organization of expeditions against Mexico, and requesting the President to issue his proclamation requiring all proper officers of the United States to prevent them.

Mr. ROSS objected.

Subsequently Mr. ROSS withdrew his objections, and the resolution was introduced and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. STEVENS asked leave to introduce a bill to allow mileage to Senators, Representatives and Delegates present at the adjourned session.

Mr. BROOMALL objected.

Mr. STEVENS moved to suspend the rules—yeas, 46; nays, 62. So the bill was not introduced.

Mr. COVODE offered, as a question of privilege, the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States did, on the fourth of July, 1867, at the request of the counsel of John H. Surratt, cause to be issued to Stephen F. Cameron, of the rebel army, and one of the most notorious violators of the laws of war, a full pardon for all his crimes, in order that his credibility might be increased as a witness to aid in the exculpation of said Surratt from participation in the murder of President Lincoln, thus showing his sympathy with the men who murdered the President; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Judiciary Committee be instructed to examine into the foregoing charge and report the evidence to the House on the first week of the next session, together with all the evidence taken in the impeachment case.

After debate the resolution was agreed to and the preamble rejected.

Mr. BROOKS presented an affidavit of Lillis Hackaday, a colored man, denying the allegations contained in the previous statement presented, which was referred to the Committee on Elections.

GREAT NAVAL REVIEW IN HONOR OF THE SULTAN.

LONDON, July 17—Evening.—The great Naval Review, in honor of the visit of His Majesty, Abdel Aziz, Sultan of Turkey, took place to-day off Spithead. It was the most magnificent spectacle ever witnessed in English waters. A high wind, which prevailed from the Northwest, tended to increase the interest and excitement of the occasion, though interfering with the comfort of spectators. The English Squadron numbered eighty vessels, ships, yachts and tenders. The vessels of war proper, embraced the following ships: Iron clads—Minatour, 26 guns; Achilles, 26 guns; Lord Clyde, 23 guns; Bellerophon, 14 guns; Warrior, 32 guns; Black Prince, 41 guns; Valiant, 24 guns; Pallas, 26 guns; Royal Sovereign, Turret ship 5 guns; Prince Albert, turret ship, 4 guns; Wivern, turrettship, 4 guns; Research, 4 guns; Viper, twin screw, 2 guns; Vixen, twin screw, 4 guns, and Waterwitch, hydraulic propellor, 4 guns. Unarmed Gunboats, Lee, Stork, Fancy, Peglon, Redwing, Clinker, Bull frog, Fervent, Orwell, Pheasant, and Hyena, each mounting two guns. The Minatour bore the flag of rear Admiral Worden, as second in command, and held the southeast beat of the line of the armored squadron, which occupied a position nearest the Isle of Wight. The Victoria screw, three decker, bore the flag of Admiral Pasley, Commander-in-Chief, and held the southeast berth of the unarmed squadron line, which held in short position nearest Portsmouth. The squadron mounted 1,100 guns, and the naval portion alone represented a capacity of 106,000 tons, and the power of engines 23,000 horses. A thousand vessels, filled with spectators, were within seeing distance of the grand pageant. Queen Victoria was present in the Royal Yacht.

The Sultan and suite went on board the Royal yacht Osborne. Ismail Pasha, Sovereign of Egypt, and suite were on board the Heliva. The Prince of Wales, both Houses of Parliament, Lords of Admiralty, and members of the Government were also present. The shores of Gosport and Isle of Wight were lined with myriads of people, who witnessed with eager concern the evolutions of the fleets, including a mock battle. A royal salute was fired in honor of the Queen and Royal visitors, and the yards of all the ships were manned. To-night, at nine o'clock, the entire squadron was illuminated, presenting a very picturesque appearance.

Cupidity of Magistrates.

Yesterday we gave the particulars (as represented to us) of some "sharp practice" by an Alderman and police officers in collecting a civil debt, in which those concerned have rendered themselves liable to the charge of extortion. Our statement of the matter was from information received, which we considered reliable, else we would not have written what we did. If the ends of justice are served, these parties should be made to answer for their offending, and that they have offended the law in some shape, for the proper tribunal to determine, cannot be doubted. It is not necessary that we should revert further to this particular case at present, having fulfilled our province in making public the matter as far as is, perhaps, proper.

It requires no argument to make manifest the unfitness of persons who so far violate their obligations to hold positions of responsibility, such as Alderman or Constable; and their reputation, even for common honesty, as the expression goes, cannot be otherwise regarded than as not first class. To say that all of our present Aldermen are unfitted for the places they hold, that they almost daily do things in the pursuit of their business at which honest men would recoil, would be unjust, nor do we entertain any such belief; but we do say and believe, in common with other citizens observant of the style of police business, that some of our Aldermen disgrace themselves and the office. It is in a large measure with the unfortunate that they have to deal. Where money is the sole controlling idea, and opportunity offers, we have magistrates who scruple not to prostitute their office, and under color thereof take of the means of the unfortunate to satisfy a greed for gain, the administration of justice the while being lost sight of, since the minister himself renders himself amenable to the law which he has sworn to regard. The lower class of humanity are also taken advantage of, and they, too, in their ignorance pay contribution to the magistrate, enriching him, whilst they are rendered poorer and more miserable.

Recently, within a few weeks, cases were brought to light of magistrates doing unlawful things. They were prosecuted for misdemeanor, and in one instance, we believe, the Court, from developments made in the trial of a police officer for extortion, ordered the indictment of an Alderman. If we remember rightly, there were two cases of this kind. But the investigation thus demanded stopped there. It does not appear the Grand Jury were called upon to act in the cases, yet that body, in their last presentment, talked pointedly of the cupidity of magistrates. The inference would be that the corruption extended beyond the magistrates, but we hesitate to assert that the very seat of justice could be so diminished.

We will not, nor should we, be asked to particularize, after having thus spoken of our magistrates. We have asserted what is patent to a large portion of the community, and more particularly the chief officers of the Courts, we mean the District Attorney and his Assistant, and energetic action on their part, coupled with more care in the future on the part of the citizens as to whom they select for magistrates, would go far toward curing an evil long permitted to exist, the corrupting influence of which has been greatly detrimental to society.

Have You a Sound Body?

The ills of the human family are numbered by the thousands, and it is no wonder that so many languish and decay before they have lived out the time usually allotted to human existence. It is the small beginnings of disease that usually overthrow health and sap the foundations of life. Some obstruction of any one of the channels that ought to carry from the system the worn out debris or used up particles, no longer to fulfill its office in the system, is soon followed by a general prostration of the whole body, and becomes in some place or another unsound. Perhaps the liver, the lungs, the spleen, the kidneys, or the skin takes on a diseased action, and then you have pains and aches not only in the locality of these organs themselves, but the nervous system, with a faithfulness peculiar to that power with which it was endowed by the Author of Nature, signals distress to the most distant parts of the living organism. The great remedy that cleanses the stomach, invigorates the liver, prompts the kidneys to faithful action, restores the skin to its appropriate functions, and CLEANSES THE BLOOD OF ALL IMPURITY, is DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER. Those who do not believe in the great purifying properties of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER have closed their eyes and ears to the most indubitable evidence, which would be received in any community as irrefragible testimony as to its unbounded merits. We challenge to the contest any medicine that has made as many important cures as have been made here in Pittsburgh by DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER. If half its merits were known, the Doctor would have to enlarge his manufactory to ten times its present extent, although we are credibly informed that his sales are even now as many as ONE HUNDRED BOTTLES A DAY!

It is not among one class of the community alone that this great remedy is known and appreciated; but it is used alike by the highest and most aristocratic circles as well as the poor and those of moderate means and pretensions. In fact, wherever disease and pain exists, Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher is a prompt remedy to banish it forever.

Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at the Doctor's great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street.

Assault and Battery Cases.

Michael Muler made information before Alderman Strain against Henry Martin, charging him with assault and battery. The prosecutor alleges that he went to the residence of the defendant to purchase a calf which he heard the defendant had for sale, and that after seeing the calf they fell out about the price to be paid for it, when hard words passed, and finally blows, one of which knocked the prosecutor down. Martin was arrested and held for a hearing.

John Kiley appeared before the same officer and made information against William Swiggin, charging him with assault and battery. The parties reside on Boyd's Hill, in the Eighth ward. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant borrowed some picks from him to dig a cellar, and that when he returned them they were badly battered and dull, whereupon he complained, and insisted that they should have been repaired before they were returned, but the defendant did not think so, and they quarrelled, and finally came to blows, when the prosecutor was knocked down. McSwiggin was arrested and held for a hearing.

Henry Lee makes the same charge against Abe Robinson. These parties are of the colored "persuasion" and reside in Hayti. The defendant alleges that he went to Morgan's store to purchase ten cents' worth of potatoes, and that when he asked for the potatoes the defendant, who was present, said that "if he could not buy more than ten cents worth of potatoes he would not keep house." Lee did not think Abe had any say in the matter, and a quarrel ensued which resulted in a fight, in which Lee was considerably bruised. A warrant was issued and the defendant arrested and held for a hearing.

James Lyons appeared before Alderman Lynch and made information against John, William and Mary Ann McQuade, charging them with assault and battery. The parties reside in "Louse Row." The case was dismissed, the defendants paying costs.

Novel Savings Bank.

Mrs. Callanan, residing on Webster street, has for several years past been keeping a novel savings bank, on her own hook, by stowing away all the gold and silver coin she could get hold of in the bed tick upon which she slept, and had succeeded in depositing about three hundred dollars of the "filthy lucre" in the aforesaid hiding place. The money remained there for so long a time that the lady had almost forgotten it, not having occasion to use it. About two weeks ago she concluded to empty the old straw out of her bed and replace it with new, and without a thought of her money emptied it out on a vacant lot. Yesterday, having occasion to visit her "bank," either for the purpose of making a deposit or drawing on it, we are not informed which, she discovered that the money was not there, and at once remembered having emptied it out. She repaired to the spot and succeeded in finding about a hundred dollars, and learned that a boy by the name of Carpenter, who resides on the same street, had been there before her and found a greater portion of the money, which he had been lavishly spending for several days past. We suppose she will be unable to recover any great amount of that found by young Carpenter.

First premium. Weed Sewing Machine; so perfectly adapted to all kinds of work.

Such is the capacity of the Weed Sewing Machine that we claim it to be the best in use. Not that every family requires so wide a range of workmanship, certainly there can be no objection if the machine will sew all kinds of work, and use thread from No. 8 up to 150, silk from 000 up to F, and linen and wax thread. Call and examine it at No. 112 Grant street. It is so simply constructed that any person can learn on it.

German and English Job Printing.

Messrs. Errett, Anderson & Co., proprietors of the GAZETTE steam job printing office, have just added a new feature to their business in the way of a German department. Having purchased, in the east, all the type and material necessary for every description of job printing in German, the firm are now prepared to take orders in that line. They have secured the services of an experienced German scholar to superintend that branch of their business, who will carefully attend to translating into the pure German language all English circulars, cards, &c., entrusted for printing to the firm. The advantage of this department will be fully appreciated by the business community, as a large share of trade of this city is from an element which can not well be reached by English advertisement. The job office of Errett, Anderson & Co. may now be regarded as one of the most complete in the State, and the mercantile community can depend upon having their orders for any description of printing executed in the best style of art at the most reasonable prices. Cards, circulars, hand bills, posters, pamphlets, books, papers, bill heads, blank books, manifests, invitations, &c., are promptly and neatly finished in either the German or English language. We bespeak for the firm an increase of the large trade already awarded, and trust that with the new facilities for business, Messrs Errett, Anderson & Co. may continue to enjoy the confidence and patronage of the general business community. Their business office is in the GAZETTE Building, No. 84 Fifth street, next door to our own counting room.

Attempted Highway Robbery.

A bold attempt was made last night about twelve o'clock, by two men, to rob a man named Robert Kelley, who resides at No. 48 Seventh street, this city. Kelley represents that he was on his way to Allegheny city, to see a sick friend, and stopped a moment at the end of the Suspension Bridge, on Duquesne Way, when he was attacked by two men, one of whom struck him with some heavy instrument, knocked him down, caught him by the throat and choked him, while the other "went through" his pockets, where was found nothing but a memorandum book and some papers, which they left lying on the ground. After searching his pockets the thieves left him and ran up the river, and he called for the watch, but before the watchman arrived, the parties who committed the act were out of sight. He came to the watch-house with the policeman, related his story, and requested the privilege of remaining there all night, as he could not get in where he came from at so late an hour. His eye was badly swollen, and bears evidence of having received a severe blow.

The Continental Saloon.

Among the many well conducted first class restaurants and eating saloons in the city none stand higher in the estimation of the public than the "Continental," situated next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street. It has for a long time past been under the management of Mr. Wm. Holtzheimer, the worthiest and most skilled of proprietors, and has ever merited and received a large share of public patronage. The saloon is well arranged for the business to which it is adapted, being large, airy and neatly fitted. The furniture is of first class style, while the utmost cleanliness prevails. All the cooking is done in the rear of the saloon—a great convenience in this warm weather which other places for dining might profitably adopt. The tables are kept constantly supplied with the choicest of viands and delicacies which the markets afford, served up in the very best style of the culinary art. The bar is liberally supplied with ales, wines and beers, no stronger beverages being sold. To those desirous of procuring a first class meal we can safely recommend Mr. Holtzheimer's saloon.

The Japanese

The Opera house was filled to its utmost capacity last night with a select and fashionable audience, to witness the Japanese in their marvellous performances. The entertainment is one of more than usual interest, being of an entirely different character from anything ever witnessed in this city, and as versatile as it is novel. The wonderful feats of balancing by Ring Kee Chee, or little "All Right," are performed apparently without regard to the laws of gravitation, and yet with such strict adherence to them as to appear as much "in his element" at the top of a twenty foot bamboo pole, as when walking on the stage. The managers have decided to remain in the city until Wednesday night next, which will positively be their last exhibition here. They will give a matinee on Saturday afternoon, and persons desiring to attend should secure their seats early, as seats are already engaged three or four nights in advance, and we are informed that nearly all the seats in the parquette have been engaged for to-night.

Surety of the Peace Cases.

Thomas Bowlar made information before Ald. Strain yesterday against Patrick Welsh, charging him with surety of the peace. The parties reside at Soho, and a few days since Welsh made information against Bowlar for assault and battery, whereupon Bowlar retaliated with a charge of surety of the peace, alleging that the defendant threatened to kill him. Welsh was arrested and held for a hearing.

Samuel Hardy appeared before Alderman Lynch and charged T. R. Lord with surety of the peace. He alleges that the defendant threatened to take his life. Lord was held for his appearance at Court.

E. C. Mackey is also charged with the same offense, before the same magistrate, and by the same prosecutor, and was also held for Court.

Boy Lost.

A young boy named Edward Gass, residing in Palo Alto street, Allegheny city, disappeared yesterday afternoon. His mother, as we understood, sent him to Pittsburgh on an errand, and late in the evening he had not returned. His mother presuming that she could perhaps obtain some information about her son, called at the Mayor's office at about half past nine o'clock and gave the following description: He is ten years old; wore light pants; a light brown coat; dark hat, white shirt; light complexion; always attended to his business. The boy she thinks must have met with some accident. Any information concerning the said Edward Gass, will be cheerfully received at the Mayor's office, by his distressed mother.

Leap for Liberty.

The notorious "Paddy" Williams was on a "spree" yesterday, and maliciously broke a window in the "Hart's Content" saloon. The proprietor of the saloon made information against him for malicious mischief, before Mayor McCarthy, who sent his officers in search of the offender. They succeeded in finding him in a house on a private alley between Penn street and Duquesne Way; but Patty was not to be taken without making an effort to escape, and when the officers went into the house he was out of it at a second story window, jumping to the pavement, a distance of some twenty feet, and started off at a run, but the police overhauled him and took him to the lock-up. He will have a hearing this morning.

The Champion Piano of the Present.

We resigned, in April last, the agency of Messrs. Decker Bro.'s piano, finding the issues of that factory inferior to the instruments manufactured before, which we had the greatest right to call really excellent. Previous to that date, Messrs. Decker Bros. gave their undivided attention to the manufacture of pianos, but not so since they carry on another business—the importation of wine; and the bad effects of this soon appeared. According to our maxim, to keep as our principal piano only the very best, we have accepted the agency of the Marshall Piano, which is the champion piano of the present, and, we hope, for a long future.

Oil Men's Exchange.

The Oil merchants of this city met in the parlors of the Scott House, corner of Irwin street and Duquesne Way, on Tuesday morning last, and organized as an Oil Men's Exchange, and elected R. W. Burke, Esq., President, and H. M. Long, Secretary. After the conclusion of business, an excellent lunch was served by the worthy proprietor of the Scott House, to which all present did ample justice. The members of the organization will meet regularly every morning, between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock, for the purpose of transacting business in the interest of the Oil trade.

Temperance Pic Nic.—That high-toned and praiseworthy organization, Division "42" Sons of Temperance, proposes to have a grand basket pic nic, at Monitor Grove, on Wednesday, July 31st. It is charged that the agent of the Witchitaws and the Superintendent are in the "ring."

Eleven deaths from cholera occurred at Fort Harker on Monday, among them Mrs. Sternburg, wife of the Post Surgeon.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT:

HON. HENRY W. WILLIAMS,

Of Allegheny County.

WHO ARE CITIZENS?

The English word citizen is derived from the French word citoyen, and this latter remotely from the Latin word civis. Aristotle commences the Third Book of his "Politik" with an investigation of the question, "What is a citizen?" He defines him to be one who participates in the judicial and legislative power of a State. The Roman word civis, in its full sense, also means one who had some share in the civil power of a State. Herein is disclosed the essential diffeence between citizen and subject.

The usual form of acquiring citizenship has been by birth; by being born of citzens. In the old Greek, and generally in those States of antiquity where citizenship existed, this was the only mode in which as a general rule it could be acquired. A person obtained no rights of citizenship by the mere circumstance of being born in a country or living there. Difference of religion was one of the causes for excluding strangers from the political body.

The Roman system was at first a close community, but the practice of admitting aliens to the citizenship was early introduced. They were even admitted by the old Burghers, or Patricians, in considerable numbers. The admission of aliens to the citizenship, either partial or complete, became a regular part of the Roman polity, to which Rome owed the extension of her name, her language and her power. It is true that the process went on slowly, and for a long period the Romans, unwisely and with danger to their State, resisted the claims of their Italian allies, or subject people, who demanded the Roman citizenship; but this claim was finally settled in favor of the Italians by the social or Marsic war, and the concessions that followed that war. Sometimes the States of Italy declined admission in the Roman political body. They preferred their own Constitution to the rights and duties of Roman citizens.

The Roman system did not allow a man to claim the citizenship by birth, unless he was born of such a marriage as the State recognized as a legal marriage. If a Roman married a woman who belonged to a people with whom the Roman State recognized no intermarriage, the child was not a Roman citizen, for he was not the child of his father, and it was only as the child of a Roman father that he could claim Roman citizenship. The Slaveholding States of this country adopted this rule, making the child of a slave woman follow her political condition instead of its father's. Out of this rule, and the corollaries from it, have proceeded most of the perplexities encountered by our Courts on this class of questions. Just here, arises one of the prime difficulties which beset the case of Mr. VASHON.

But, it must be borne in mind that a time came in Roman history when the distinction between Patrician and Plebian began to wane. As fast as men ceased to be slaves, they became citizens. When there were no slaves, the Romans were all citizens. Indeed, in the most exclusive era of Rome, whenever a slave was regularly manumitted, he became a citizen. There was no intermediate class, between citizens and slaves, such as the existence of Slavery in this country created, and which Judge STOWE attempts to perpetuate. They who were not slaves were citizens; and this was the origin of the use of the word "freemen" in the respective Constitutions of Pennsylvania. By the Constitutions of 1776 and 1790 all freemen were recognized as citizens and voters, irrespective of color. By the Constitution of 1838, which still remains in force, a distinction is made between white and colored freemen or citizens. Only the white ones are now allowed to vote. Why was this? Because Slavery became the great political power in the nation; kept the Democratic party in the ascendency, and made it the instrument for carrying out its behests. This is why the State Constitution was emasculated; why the State Courts likewise became so debauched as to decide that a colored freeman is not a citizen; why the Supreme Court of the United States at last ventured to utter the hellish dicta that black men and women had no rights of person, property, chastity or reputation that a white man was bound to respect. All these decisions flowed from one and the same fountain; are in their essence closely allied; are in contradiction of Liberty and Equality, and in flagrant opposition to the teachings and practice of the founders of our institutions. As Slavery has been abolished throughout the length and breadth of the Union, these dark and disgraceful traces of its former existence have become insufferable. Those who are blind and deaf to the real significance of what has happened in this nation during the last six years, may still linger fondly among the relics of the old abomination, but we admonish them that if they do, the reviving sense of public justice will sweep them and their judgments away together.

The English law gives the citizenship to all persons who are born anywhere of a British citizen, or of one whose father or father's father was a citizen of Great Britain. Under this rule a large part of the decendants of the revolutionary stock of this country, can to-day claim the privileges of British citizenship. But Great Britain is monarchical in its form of government; and hence citizenship under it rests upon an aristocratic basis, uncongenial to our republican institutions. The very idea of a democracy pre-supposes that all the native inhabitants at least are citizens. "Whosoever shall fall on this rock shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, he shall be ground, to powder." The time is soon coming in this country, when this prediction, in this special application of it, will be fully verified. Wise men who desire to escape the impending crash, will have no trouble in perceiving where in safety lies.

Webster says citizen means, "in the the United States, a person, native or naturalized, who has the privilege of exercising the elective franchise, or the qualifications which enable him to vote for rulers, and to purchase and hold real estate." When he wrote his Dictionary that definition was tolerably exact. There had been a falling away, as remarked above, from the finer and better conception, in one particular, which marked the revolutionary era, and that which immediately followed it. In another particular, since Webster wrote, the ideas of the fathers have been improved upon. In most of the States aliens are now allowed to hold and convey real estate, the same as natives. This illustrates the action and reaction that mark the progress of political society, as absolutely as the movements of the material universe.

But we have looked beyond WEBSTER to find the true meaning of citizen in the United States. We have turned to the inculcations of the men who laid the foundations of popular liberty on this continent. We have not searched for these inculcations in light and transient expressions, but where nice discriminations were needful; in the early Constitutions of the several States. Let us see what these inculcations are.

That of Maine said "every male citizen," &c., shall be a voter. Interpret this sentence according to WEBSTER—"every citizen shall be a citizen," or "every voter shall be a voter." What nonsense results from such an exposition! The citizens, then, constituted a larger class, out of which the voters were selected.

That of New Hampshire said "every male inhabitant," &c., shall be a voter. Do you begin to see what the fathers meant by citizen?

That of Vermont said "every man of the full age of twenty-one years" shall be a voter. Catch you a glimpse here of the fundamental idea?

The Constitution of Georgia said: "All citizens and inhabitants," &c., shall be voters. Here the words citizens and inhabitants are used conjunctively. It does not matter for our present purpose, whether the words are regarded as synonymous or cumulative.

The Constitution of Delaware said "All white male freemen," &c., shall be voters.

The Constitution of Mississippi said, "Every free, white male citizen," &c., shall be a voter. There were, consequently, citizens who were not male, who were not white, and who were not free.

The Constitution of Kentucky said: "Every free, male citizen, (people of color excepted,)" &c., shall be a voter. The expression is varied from that of the Constitution of Mississippi, but the logic is the same.

The Constitution of New Jersey said: "All persons of full age, who are worth fifty pounds proclamation money, clear estate in the same" shall be voters. This was exceedingly broad. It allowed men and women, black and white, to vote, on equal terms. Popular opinion at last required the abandonment of the property qualification, as to whites, and the Legislature passed a law declaring that every white male inhabitant, who should be over the age of twenty-one years, and should have paid a tax, should be considered worth fifty pounds, and be entitled to vote. Afterwards, the fickle jade compelled the enactment of a law by which females and negroes were prohibited from voting—they were virtually declared not to be persons.

Citizen, man, inhabitant, freeman, person, are used by the fathers as synonymous and interchangeable words. This is our general conception of citizenship; it is the democratic conception. The people of this country will ultimately return to it, and embody it in all its fullness. Till then we maintain that every man upon whom the government lays the burden of supporting it—into whose hands, in time of war, it insists upon putting a musket—shall be recognized as a citizen and voter. Duties are simply corollaries from rights. He who has no right, owes no duty; for the one is the absolute measure of the other.

A Strange Story of a Woman's Caprice and a Spiritualist's Fortune and Misfortune.

[From Berrow's Journal, Worcester, Eng.]

For some time past Mr. D. D. Home, the celebrated "Spiritualist," has been staying at Malvern, under the care of Dr. Gully. One day last week Mr. Home suddenly disappeared from the neighborhood, and the next we hear of the gentlemen, whose face had become familiar at Malvern, and not unknown in Worcester, is of his being a prisoner. A writ had been issued against him for obtaining a large sum of money by undue influence, and the legal men concerned had thought it advisable to have some declaration made whereby Mr. Home could at once be arrested. This much we learn from ordinary sources. We complete the narrative from a letter of explanation which Mr. Home has forwarded to us himself. Beginning at the period of that "stroke of luck" which the papers chronicled last year, Mr. Home says on the 1st of October, 1866, he received a letter signed "Jane Lyon," in which the writer requested to know on what terms she could become a member of a society of ladies and gentlemen who had clubbed together for the serious investigation of the so-called Spiritual phenomena. Without waiting for a reply she visited Mr. Home the next day and requested him to call upon her. He called accordingly, and Mrs. Lyon presented him with £30 toward the expenses of the Society. Up to this time she had not witnessed any of the so-called phenomena, but stated that from early childhood she had seen most wonderful visions. On the Sunday following Mr. Home called again, and Mrs. Lyon declared that she had seen him in visions and wished to adopt him as her son. During this interview, Mr. Home says, she saw some phenomena which convinced her, and she expressed herself more than ever desirous to adopt him as her son. On the 10th of October she wrote to him and presented him with an entirely free gift of £24,000 which sum was paid to Mr. Home the next day. After this he went to Brighton and received letters as from a mother to her son. He then adopted her name in addition to his own, and became as most people know, Mr. Home Lyon. The winter passed, and Mr. Home was taken seriously ill. Advised to go to Malvern, he placed himself under Dr. Gully, and during his stay at the seat of the water cure his "mother" wrote to him kind and affectionate letters; yet, meanwhile, (so it turns out) she was consulting lawyers as to the best means of undoing what she had done. At this point she consults a supposed spiritual medium, a girl of twelve years of age, by whom she is told that Mr. Home Lyon has a familiar spirit which has compelled her to adopt him. The advice of the medium is that Mrs. Lyon shall throw the whole thing into chancery. Mr. Home returns to London at this juncture, and is received kindly by his patron. On the second interview, however, she demands the return of all or part of the money she has given him, and tells him that all his friends are swindlers. "This, of course, (says Mr. Home,) renders it impossible for me to comply with her request, as much for my friends' sake as for my own." Within the shortest possible time she has him thrown into Whitecross Street Prison. He only remains there one night, however, but the shock to his nervous system has been great, and he is now very ill. The case will, ere long, come before the law courts, and will, no doubt, be a very remarkable trial. It will be a fight between Spiritualists, and must elicit some extraordinary disclosures; for Mrs. Lyon adheres to her belief in Spiritualism, and does not charge Mr. Home with fraud, but vows that he has "a familiar spirit."

A FATHER DIES FOR HIS SON.—There has been a terrible fire in Evansville, in which some of the best merchants' houses were burned down. The Evansville Courier says, and it is nobler and braver than Casabianca:

"We regret to chronicle the loss of a useful man, a loving and kind husband, a brave father—for in the act of saving his son's life the father was buried beneath the burning ruins. Mr. Magennis was employed in the factory as a maker of safes, and had, we believe, as an assistant, his son, a lad some sixteen years old. These two were working in the upper story when the alarm was given, and, seeking to make an exit, found their retreat cut off. The father helped his son to reach a window, and, pushing him from it, sank back exhausted into the raging furnace beneath. The body was badly burned, and when the fire was somewhat subdued, there was gathered from near where the door had been, a heap of shriveled blackened remains—all that was left of a noble man who had died while striving to save a life that was dearer than his own."

—The New York Times says: Hardly a day passes without its crop of "honorary degrees" from some one of the hundred colleges of the country. When the harvest is past, the total of these profuse honors will be something surprising. The consequence is that the "degrees in course" are all the less valuable. An A. B. or an A. M. is now a very small affair, except to a few quaint relics of a former generation, like the famous pastor of "Jaalam Centre." In the principal colleges the first degree, that of A. B., is conferred on every graduate; the second degree, that of A. M., is added after three years, on application for it, and on paying down five dollars for the expense of the diploma or "sheepskin." Now, so little is the A. M. valued by the college youth, that a majority, or a large minority, of the graduating classes, in some colleges, do not so much as take the trouble to send for it, at the end of their three years—and still less do they send the five dollars. The only use of a degree, now-a-days, in fact, is its business use to school-masters, to decorate and dignify the "list of instructors" in the academic catalogue.

—Throughout the entire line of shipbuilding cities the shipyards are empty, and the workmen by thousands have deserted their handicraft, and sought whatever other occupations might give them bread, or they have left the country altogether. A TIMELY WARNING.

It is especially important at this time, when the markets of the United States are flooded with the direst poisons, under the name of imported liquors and when domestic compounds purporting to be medicinal, but not a whit less pernicious, are heralded to the world as "sovereign remedies," that the public should fully understand the facts. Be it known, then, that while all the diffusive stimulants called liquors are impure, and all the Tonics containing alcohol are manufactured with a fiery article containing amyl or fusil oil, a mortal poison, HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS contain none of these things, but are a combination of pure essence of Rye with the pure juices of the most valuable stomachic, antibilious and aperient herbs and plants, and that as a safe and rapid remedy for Dyspepsia and all its kindred complaints, this preparation stands before the world without a rival or competitor. Its sales to-day are equal to the combined sales of all the other tonics advertised in the United States, and the certificates which authenticate its usefulness are signed by individuals of the highest standing in every professional calling and walk of life. Beware of imitations and imposters.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing. Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago. The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhoea, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. ap20

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

CAPE MAY,

CAPE ISLAND.

Since the close of 1866 much enterprise has been displayed at this celebrated sea-shore resort. New and magnificent cottages have been erected; the Hotels have been remodeled; a fine park, with a well made one mile drive, has been inaugurated; and in all the essentials of a popular summer resort, a spirit of improvement is largely manifested.

The geographical position of Cape Island is in itself a popular feature, when properly understood—situated at the extreme southern portion of the State, and occupying a neck of land at the confluence of the Delaware Bay with the Atlantic Ocean, it becomes entirely surrounded by salt water, hence favored by continual breezes from the sea.

The bluff furnishes a beautiful view of the Ocean, Delaware Bay, and picturesque back country, taking in Cape Henlopen distinctly at a distance of sixteen miles. The beach is acknowledged to surpass any other point upon the Atlantic coast, being of a smooth, compact sand which declines so gently to the surf that even a child can bathe with security.

Added to these attractions is the fact that the effect of the Gulf Stream upon this point renders the water comparatively warm—a point not to be overlooked by persons seeking health in ocean bathing.

The distance from Philadelphia to Cape Island is 81 miles by rail, and about the same distance by steamer down the Bay, and by either route the facilities for travel promise to be of the most satisfactory character. The Island has Hotel and Boarding-house accommodations for about ten thousand persons. The leading Hotels are the Columbia House, with GEORGE J. BOLTON as proprietor; Congress Hall, with J. F. CAKE as proprietor, and United States, with WEST & MILLER as proprietors, all under the management of gentlemen who have well established reputations as hotel men.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE

UNION PACIFIC

RAIL ROAD CO.

Are now constructing a Railroad from OMAHA, NEBRASKA, westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making, with its connections, an unbroken line

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The Company now offer a limited amount of their

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

Having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the City of New York, at the rate of

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

At Ninety Cents on the Dollar.

This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equipped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connection with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government issues its Six per cent. Thirty-year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.

The Company is also permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which BY SPECIAL ACT OF CONGRESS ARE MADE A FIRST MORTGAGE ON THE ENTIRE LINE, the bonds of the United States being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,032,000 acres, estimated to be worth $30,000,000, making the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now be realized.

The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars, of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment.

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished, for the month of May, were $351,752. These sectional earnings, as the road progresses, will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expended; on 300 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of

Nine Per Cent.,

And it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds, they will go above par. The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate, and retain the right to advance the price at their option.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

A Pennsylvania Elopement and its Consequences.

A fashionably dressed man, giving the name of John W. Burgess, says the New York Times, entered the Twenty-ninth Precinct Police Station, on Sunday, and informed Captain Speight that he was the proprietor of an eating saloon in Easton, Pennsylvania, and that his wife, Alida, had absconded from his home with a young man named John Moorehead, who was a friend of the family. The guilty pair had carried $500 away with them, the property of the forsaken husband. Mr. Burgess had traced the fugitives to this city, and believed that they had secured rooms at the Hoffman House. The Police Captain obtained a description of the erring pair, and dispatched Sergeant Gunner and officer Rowland to the hotel, where they succeeded in finding Mrs. Burgess and her lover, who had registered himself as "John Moran and sister." The Sergeant ascertained that the fugitives were at dinner, and he disturbed the meal by announcing his business. They submitted and followed the officer to the Station-house, where the indignant husband demanded an explanation. Mrs. Burgess assured him that "no harm had been done," and she merely intended to pay her sister a visit in Vermont, and had requested Mr. Moorehead to accompany her. The husband seemed greatly relieved at this singular explanation, and requested his wife to go back with him to Easton, Pennsylvania which did not suit Mrs. Burgess, for she refused, and insisted on continuing her journey to Vermont. The whim was yielded to, and the three left the Station-house together—Moorehead and Burgess going back to Easton, and Mrs. Burgess started yesterday for Vermont.

United States Local Inspectors Report.

The following report of the United States Local Inspectors for the port of Pittsburgh, for the quarter ending June 30th, was presented in the United States District Court, and ordered to be filed:

We have the honor to submit our report of the operations of this board for the quarter ending June 30th, 1867; since our last report we have inspected thirty steamers of all classes, viz: Passenger steamers, eight; towing boats, sixteen; ferry boats, five; canal propellors, one; total, thirty. Tonnage of passenger steamers, 2,189; tonnage of towing boats, 2,634; tonnage of ferry boats, 587; tonnage of canal propellor, 26; total tonnage, 5,429.

We have issued licenses to sixty-two engineers and eighty-two pilots, and have ordered repairs on the boilers and machinery of a number of vessels.

On the 10th of April last the tow boats "Dick Fulton" and "Dolphin" were burned while lying at the wharf in this city. Loss supposed to be about $70,000. On the 18th of the same month, the tug boat "Alex. Chambers" collapsed one of the flues in the starboard boiler, while lying just below Dam No 1, in the Monongahela river. Four persons were injured, one of whom died. In our opinion (after a careful investigation of the case) the engineer was in fault, and we therefore revoked his license. This is the only accident in this district, during the quarter, where life was lost.

The Philadelphia Saengerfest—Condemnatory Resolutions.

At a regular meeting of McGaw Lodge, No. 169, Independent Order of Good Templars, held on July 16th, 1867, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is with shame and mortification we hear that the late Saengerfest at Philadelphia were allowed to publicly violate the law prohibiting the sale of liquor on the Sabbath day.

Resolved, That as citizens of Pennsylvania, we believe that neither the Mayor or police of Philadelphia, or any other city of our State, have any right, or authority to suspend so wholesome and sanitary a law, or to promise not to interfere with the infraction of any law on our statute books, by any particular clan, sect or society.

Resolved, That we ask our Temperance friends throughout our State to help us in petitioning our Legislature to appoint a Committee of Investigation on this act of the Mayor or police of Philadelphia, and to recommend what action should be taken upon the same.

Resolved, That, as temperance men, we will unite with all loyal and order-loving citizens in all efforts to carry out to the letter all the provisions of the act in reference to the liquor traffic, approved April 17th, 1867.

Larceny by Bailee.

Ellen Cowley and Alexander alias "Sandy" Fitzsimmons have been at "outs" for some weeks past, during which time a number of prosecutions have been brought by both parties, none of them, however, amounting to anything, and not having noticed their names in the police reports, were led to believe that their difficulties were at an end. On visiting Alderman Taylor's yesterday, we discovered our mistake, and found Ellen and "Sandy" again on the tapis. Ellen alleges that she left in "Sandy's" possession a number of articles of household furniture, consisting of tables, chairs, etc., which he promised to take care of for her, and that on demanding the articles of "Sandy," he denied having them, whereupon she made an information against him, charging him with larceny by bailee. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for "Sandy," who was arrested and held for a hearing, and was informed that he would have to get bail. "Of course I will," said Sandy.

Fraud.

John Chess made information before Alderman Strain, against William Merryman, charging him with fraud. Chess alleges that the defendant chartered from him the steamboat Charmer, for four weeks, at the rate of $100 per week, and that at the expiration of the time for which the boat was chartered the defendant gave a check on the Central National Bank of Cincinnati for $400, representing that he had money there, and that the check would be honored when presented. The check was taken by prosecutor, and when presented was dishonored, the officers of the bank saying that there was no funds there for any such person. The prosecutor resides in South Pittsburgh, and the defendant in Allegheny City. A warrant was issued.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.—The great care and zealousness in performing their duty, evinced by the train men on the Pennsylvania Railroad, cannot be better attested than by the statement that the number of passengers carried over the road, on July 4th, reached the unprecedented total of 37,721, and yet not a single passenger received the slightest injury. When, in addition, the fact is taken into consideration that many special trains were run on extra time tables—a most frequent cause of disastrous accidents—the good management and superior safety of this road cannot be too highly estimated.

Assault.—T. R. Lord made information before Alderman McMasters, against Samuel Hardy, charging him with assault. He alleges that Hardy abused him by calling him "ugly names," and that he used vulgar and blasphemous language. The parties reside on Union alley, Third ward. Hardy was arrested and held for a hearing. We have not learned whether the parties have employed counsel or not, but we rather think the defendant is supplied, for "if the Lord be for us who can be against us."

The Jewelry Store Burglary.—Yesterday at two o'clock P. M. was the time fixed for the hearing of Robert Moorhead, charged with being concerned in the robbery of the jewelry store of J. W. Simonton, Liberty street, on the night of the 26th ult. Moorhead failed to appear, thus forfeiting his bail, his mother having became security for his appearance in the sum of two thousand dollars. The case is before Alderman Butler.

Fire Alarm Telegraph Superintendent.—The Committee on Fire Engines and Hose of Allegheny City have appointed M. McGonnigle, Esq., as Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, just completed in that city. Mr. M. is a well known citizen, highly trustworthy, and entirely competent to discharge the duties of the position.

Gored to Death.—William Reynolds, a young man residing near Shelby, Ohio, was so badly gored by an infuriated bull, on last Saturday, that he died the same day. We have not learned the particulars of the case, but understand that he was dreadfully mangled, and suffered terribly before he died.

Americans Everywhere.

A British correspondent of the Toronto Leader is surprised to find Americans so plenty in Europe, and writes as follows: "It is almost incredible what a number of Americans are to be found rambling through Europe. It is not an extraordinary influx brought hither by the Exposition. That tide—if there is one, of which I am not aware, for I have almost been out of the world of news for the past month—can only be fairly in motion now. There are hundreds of Americans in every city in Italy. Not less than forty of them sat down to dinner the other day at the Hotel Victoria, (though it has an English name,) in Venice; and this is but one hotel in one city of the southern peninsula. And not only are they to be found swarming over Italy, but they have taken the East by storm this year, no doubt prying into that 'mystery of holy shrines,' which, as Kinglake so pompously remarks in his history of the Crimean war, 'lies deep in human nature.' A gentleman just returned from Jerusalem, with whom we crossed the Alps, says it is astonishing what a number of these incorrigible sight-seers have braved the miseries of filthy hovels, called hotels, in Jaffa and Damascus, in their desire to see the world. More American ladies, he reports, have joined the parties making pilgrimages eastward this year than have gone in that direction for ten years previously. I have myself met several American ladies and gentlemen who have been in Europe for the past two or three years, now spending a few months in Moscow and St. Petersburg, anon coursing into Spain to see famous galleries of Madrid, then turning up in Dresden or Berlin, and as the winter approaches flocking into Nice or the cities of Southern Italy. Nice is a perfect American colony, or Saratoga transplanted on French soil. I do not pretend to adjudge how much of fashion there is in all this, but I am satisfied that the knowledge of the world which many of the rising generation of America are now receiving from a contact of strange peoples and the mightiest developments of art in Europe, will have a good effect on their country. I believe the gentleman hailed from Cincinnati who, journeying from Marseilles to Naples, was asked if he intended visiting Pompeii. "Wall," said he, with an air of the most perfect unconcern, "I never did hear of such a place as that, but I calkilate this young man I've hired, (pointing to a guide at his side whom he intended taking round with him,) will show it to me." That Cincinnatian had much better have stayed at home.

—A Chicago paper says that trade is so dull that most of the St. Louis merchants sit in their offices all day doing nothing. A few days since one was observed running at great speed down to his place of business. A friend shouted out, "Where are you running to, this hot weather?" "Why, the fact is," replied the merchant, "there are three partners of us, and only two chairs at the office, and I want to hurry down and get one of them before my partner gets there."

Cigars by Machinery.

It may interest smokers to know that cigars, which have until now been made by hand, may hereafter be made by machinery, at a considerable saving in cost, if we can believe reports.

A cigar-making apparatus has recently been invented in Germany and patented in this country, which can, it is said, turn out one hundred and fifty thousand cigars a week.

One of these machines is now in operation in Detroit, and is thus described in a paper of that city: "The apparatus consists of several machines, through each of which the tobacco must be passed before the cigar is ready for the outside wrapper, which is put on by hand. It has a number of valuable features about it, the principal of which are that the tobacco can be worked up dry, and when the cigar is made it is ready for use; that every cigar contains an equal amount of tobacco; that cigars can be made at half the price they can by hand; and that all the stock can be worked up with no loss of material. It requires forty-five experienced cigar makers to put on the outside wrappers as rapidly as they are made by the apparatus, which can without difficulty make twenty-five thousand cigars every ten hours. This is equal to the average work of ninety or one hundred experienced cigar makers. It is estimated that the expense of manufacturing cigars by this machine is reduced from seventy-five to one hundred per cent., or about one-half.

—A Paris "secesh" correspondent writes: "No nation has socially sunk more abroad than America during the last six years. The change familiar to you at Washington is as striking here at the American Minister's. I haven't set foot in his house, but I am told you see nobody there but the scrub-rich of the North, giving themselves great airs, aping everything European, thoroughly unnational, though, at the same time intensely "loyal," ill-mannered, uneducated, pushing themselves everywhere on everybody."

—George Cruikshank, the artist-humorist, has been granted a pension of $475 per year by the British Government, in acknowledgment of his genius. He is seventy-five years old, and, whether needing it or not, the acknowledgment comes late, and is not large.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SECOND BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' GRAND PRESENTATION ENTERTAINMENT, will most positively take place at EVINS' HALL, on the evening of July 24th, 1867. The largest, greatest and most successful enterprise ever inaugurated in the world. A Present with every ticket.

The First Grand Concert was given on July 4th. It was a grand success. The mammoth Hall was filled with the elite of the city. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading Bankers and Merchants, to examine the corresponding numbers to the tickets and the Register Books, to see that all is correct before making the grand distribution of prizes at the last Concert, on the 24th of July.

A gift with every ticket. The Grand Distribution of presents will be conducted on the Mutual Benefit principle. A pro-rata Distribution of Profits to Ticket holders. Capital, $1,287,148. Tickets, $1 each. A present with every ticket.

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the commercial and financial standing of the company, and the managers and bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guarantee of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with it will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket holders will be most scrupulously watched over and guarded. In fact it is the desire of the managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest. List of Presents:—One cash present at $75,000; one cash present at $50,000; one cash present at $25,000; two cash presents at $10,000; three cash presents at $5,000; four cash presents at $3,000; five cash presents at $2,000; eight cash presents at $1,000; fourteen cash presents at $500; twenty cash presents at $300; twenty-five cash presents at $200; forty cash presents at $100; seventy-five cash presents at $50; one hundred and forty cash presents at $25; one hundred and fifty cash presents at $20; one hundred and seventy-five cash presents at $10; two hundred cash presents at $5—864 cash presents, amounting to $150,000. Total value of presents, $1,287,148. Immediately after the grand distribution a list of the presents awarded will be printed and sent to each ticket holder. This will be the fairest and most impartial plan of distribution yet offered to the public. To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets and the registering of the same to CLARK, WEBSTER & CO., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the grand presentation entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of presents. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 17, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 139¾; Eighty-one bonds, 109¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 111½; Five Twenties, 1864, 108⅝; Five Twenties, 1865, 109⅛; ditto new, 108; Seven Thirties, 107½@107¾; Ten Forties, 102. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 71¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 92¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 98¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 45⅝; Chicago and Northwestern preferred 70¼; Fort Wayne Railroad, 102⅝; Michigan Southern Railroad, 80⅛; New York Central, 106⅝; Reading, 104⅛. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,75; Quartz Hill, 1,90; Gregory, 6,45; Smith & Paramalee, 5,25; Western Union Telegraph Company, 47⅛.

Gold opened strong at 140⅜, but declined after first board, on assurances that the President's ideas in regard to paying the rebel debt were not entertained by Congress. The same causes that advanced gold likewise operated on Government securities; there was a decline of from ¾ to 1 per cent. through the entire list especially for Seven Thirties. The afternoon quotations are more favorable, and private advices state that heavy purchases are going to be made at present rates for speculation. Altogether this decline within the last two days gives a better tone to the market, and the advance will bring in new investors who were too timid to buy at the advanced figures.

The stock market was weak early in the day, but recovered and closes quiet at 3 p. m. Mining shares firm and in demand, especially Corydon, which had yielding to some heavy sales made by parties to realize. Bank stocks in better demand, and the local money market easier.

Closing quotations received by James T. Brady:

U. S. Sixes, 1881	109¾
" 5-20s, 1862	111½
" " 1864	108⅝
" " 1865	109

August 7-30s	107⅛

Dec. Compounds, 1864	117½

Silver	134½

—It is stated that the Secretary of the Treasury has determined to limit the redemption of compound notes to thirty millions out of the eighty millions which mature this year, and will exchange fifty millions of 3 per cent. certificates for an equal number of compounds. On this a financial cotemporary says: "As there is an accumulation of interest of $14,050,000 upon the compounds maturing in 1867, which will be available to the banks, the maturing notes will not disturb the money market to the extent feared by many. The destruction of $30,000,000 of the existing reserve of the banks, and the reduction of interest on $50,000,000 more of reserve are, however, movements toward specie payments, which debtors and traders on borrowed capital should heed. With the present crop prospects fairly realized, lower prices follow as a matter of course for breadstuffs and provisions."

—The Secretary of the Treasury, in answer to a resolution of the House asking information as to the amount of revenue received from the tax on distilled spirits during the last fiscal year, says in an official reply to the House, that it is impossible now to communicate the information because only a part of the returns from collectors has been received at the Internal Revenue Bureau. Some idea of the stupendous frauds frauds practiced in whisky may be reached by estimating the annual product at 70,000,000 gallons—which is under rather than over the mark. If the taxes were collected on the whole, the product would be $140,000,000. But let one fourth escape the law, and over $100,000,000 would be obtained. Last year whisky yielded only $30,000,000, with the prospect of being one-third less this year, the receipts the last two months having been at the rate of $10,000,000 a year.

—The New York Herald remarks: It is ascertained from an official source that the coin interest has been paid, amounting to eight and a half millions of dollars, on the loans of 1867 and 1868, and on what are termed bonds of 1881 and five-twenties of the recent issue, which fell due on the 1st inst. On the 15th of this month the interest on the seven thirties falls due, amounting to six millions of dollars in lawful money. Thereafter no coin interest will be payable until the 1st of November, with the exception of that falling due on the ten-forties on the 1st of September, amounting to four and a half millions. The interest on the compound notes, amounting to fourteen millions in currency, will be paid in July, August, October and December, respectively. The coin in the Treasury is about seventy-three millions, and twenty millions of coin certificates.

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Tuesday, says: The week opens as the last closed, with a very easy money market. There has been some change in the condition of the internal exchanges, and the banks are adding little if any to their balances from receipts from that quarter. The heavy payments in currency from the Treasury, commenced yesterday, gives the banks ample means, and with the very light commercial demand usual in July, there is little employment for money except in stocks. Rates are steady at 5 per cent. on stock collaterals, and 4 per cent. on Governments. Prime paper is current at 6@7 per cent. Lower grades are unusually irregular.

—The recent New York failures are attributed to the decline in the value of their goods on hand, and their extravagant rent and other expenses. The losses from these failures are divided between the manufacturers on the other side, the American importers and the domestic commission men. The bankrupt estates, it is estimated, will wind up, paying from 40 to 60c on the dollar. The banks hold but a moderate amount of their paper under discount.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 17, 1867.

The market remains quiet with but little doing. Farmers are busily engaged with their harvest, and consequently the amount coming into the city is not large. In the surrounding counties of Western Pennsylvania considerable wool has been selling at a range of 40@50c for coarse to fine wool. Prices in the east, since the arrivals of the new clip, have gradually declined, and buyers do not seem willing to purchase unless at rather lower prices than they have been paying. We quote coarse fleece and tub-washed wools at 40@42c; medium wools, 42@45c; fine wools, 45@48c; and choice clips, 50c.

Wool in Michigan.

DETROIT, July 16.—The receipts reported daily at the Board of Trade have continued to increase until during the week ending this morning they exceeded those of the corresponding week last year, the aggregates of these two periods being 1,111,080 lbs and 1,077,050 lbs. The condition of the markets throughout the State continues without material change, some reporting an increase in the activity, while others remain about the same. At Adrian on Friday and Saturday more wool was offered than upon any former day this season, the chief range being from 42@45c with now and then an extra lot commanding a little more. Buyers, however, were rather backward about paying extreme rates. At Hudson, also, the market shows some improvement in the amount and quality offered. Prices range from 42@47c. At Jackson the receipts continue liberal. On Friday 40,000 lbs were taken at an average of 45c. At Flint last week the market was the most active of the season. Thus far about 70,000 or 75,000 lbs has been taken, the principal range being from 38@40c, but buyers were rather cautious and growers refused to part with their clips at rates offered.—Tribune.

Chicago Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 17.—Flour dull and drooping, at $10,50@11,50 for spring extra. Wheat firmer and 5 to 6c higher than yesterday; sales light at $2,08 for No. 1; $1,80@1,85 for No. 2. Corn quiet and ½@1c lower, at 82½@84c for No 1; 85½@86½c for No. 2, closing dull. Oats firm and 2 to 3c higher, at 59@61c for No. 2. Rye 2c higher, at $1,25 for No. 1. Mess Pork steady, at $22,75. New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—There is little or no change in the dry goods market; the trade is still dull yet prices rule firm, at 18 for the best brands of yard wide Brown Sheetings. Ticks, stripes, denims, cottonades and checks are steady and in limited, as are ginghams, prints and delaines. Mixed flannels are in good demand, at 30@40, but other kinds of woolens are still languid and depressed.

Chicago Cattle Market.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 16, 1867.

There is a steady demand for most of the leading articles of trade, and while there is a fair volume of business, in the aggregate, the transactions generally are of an unimportant character, and prices generally have undergone no material change. It may be remarked that the excitement in Flour is again subsiding, and those shrewd dealers who have been, and are still predicting big prices for some time to come, may find themselves mistaken.

GRAIN—There is nothing doing in Wheat or Barley. Oats firm and in demand but unchanged; may be quoted at 83@85c, on track, and 87@90c, for small lots in store. Corn is in rather better demand; sale of 1 car prime at 96c, delivered in sacks. Rye is firm, and we now quote at $1,25@1,30, and but little offering.

FLOUR—The market is not so much excited, and with liberal arrivals and moderate demand, prices remain unchanged. We now quote at $11 50@12,50 for Spring Wheat; $13@14 for Winter Wheat; and $16,00@17,00 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is quoted at $8 50.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued fair jobbing demand for Bacon, but prices remain unchanged—11½c for Shoulders, and 21@22c for Sugar Cured Hams. Not much inquiry for Sides. Lard is dull, but held at 13@13½c. Dried Beef and Mess Pork unchanged.

POTATOES—There is an improvement in the arrivals, but the demand seems to keep pace with the supply. Sales of new crop at $4,25@4,50 per bbl, and old at $1@1,10 per bush.

MILL FEED—Is in fair demand, and in limited supply. Sales of 1 car Middlings at at $2,25, and 1 car Bran at $1,65.

GREEN APPLES—Continue scarce, and prices are well maintained—may be quoted at $4@7 per bbl, according to quality. The Apple crop, this year, it is feared, will be a failure in this part of the country.

CHEESE—Is steady, with regular jobbing sales at 13@16c, according to quality.

OIL—Lard Oil is firm and unchanged—85c for No. 2, and $1,07 for No. 1.

EGGS—Scarce, in better demand and tending upward—fresh packed may now be quoted at 22c.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the market is dull, prices remain unchanged—15@17c for prime fresh. Packed Butter quoted nominal at 8@12c.

DRIED FRUIT—Very dull, but nominally unchanged; we quote at 5@6c for Apples, and 8@10c for Peaches.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, July 17, 1866.

CRUDE—The crude market was again very much excited to-day, and under the influence of a good demand and favorable advices from New York, prices have still further advanced. The sales in the aggregate were unusually large, reaching nearly 24,000 bbls, and at the close, the "bulls" seemed to have it all their own way, the "bears" being in a weak and demoralized condition, unable to offer any resistance to the upward movement. Telegrams from Oil City reported great excitement there, and it is supposed that oil would be worth $3 per bbl at that point this evening, as it was held at $2,75 on the Tarr Farm in the afternoon. We had the following sales reported:

500 bbls from Sept. to Dec. 31st, s. o.	11
1000 " first water	11¼
1000 " first or second water	11
1500 " last three months 1867, s. o.	10½
1000 " within 30 days, b. o.	11⅛
5000 " until Dec. 1, b. o.	12½
1000 " Oct. to Dec., s. o.	11
240 " on spot	12½
1000 " on spot	11⅛
1000 " Oct. to Nov., s. o.	11
1000 " on spot	11
800 " first water	10
2000 " Oct. to Dec., s. o.	10

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was also very firm and considerable excited to-day but the extreme views of holders had a tendency to retard operations. Compared with yesterday, prices have still further advanced, but, as already intimated, there were but few sellers even at the advance. We can report the following sales:

1000 bbls for July, s. o.	32½
1000 " " " b. o.	33
500 " for August, b. o.	32
500 " " " s. o.	32½
1000 " for September, b. o.	30½

RIVER NEWS.

A dispatch was received at Cincinnati on Monday from Captain Jas. H. Marratta at New Orleans, announcing the safe arrival of the Emma No. 3 at that port. Captain Marratta says that he discharged his freight thirty hours ahead of the Wauanita.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Monday, says: The sale of boats belonging to the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company, advertised for to-day under deed of trust, did not take place, the stockholders, at a meeting this morning, having arranged the affairs of the Company in a shape that will enable them to continue operations. Captain Jos. Brown has resigned the Presidency, but as yet his successor has not been elected.

The following "tough cuss" item appears in the St. Louis Republican: "We understand that Capt. Tuff Cuss, otherwise known as Henry Spielman, is about contracting for a new steamer, with which he intends to compete with the Barge, or any other company, that may be found between this city and New Orleans, excepting Capt. De Havens. We have been furnished with the following as the dimensions of the proposed craft: Length, 400 feet; width, 60 feet; depth, 15 feet.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Tuesday: At the regular session of the Captains Association, held yesterday morning, Capt. A. Q. Ross presented a report in regard to the canal subject, which being read was ordered to be placed on the records, and on motion of Capt. Ben. Davidson, a committee of three, consisting of Capt. John A. Williamson, Capt. John Shunk and Capt. A. Q. Ross were delegated to wait on the Chamber of Commerce and ask their co-operation in securing a mode for the navigation of large boats around the falls. The following is the report submitted by Captain Ross:

GENTLEMEN: On a recent trip to Washington I was requested by several of the steamboat stockholders, of this city, to ascertain why an appropriation has not been made to complete the Louisville canal, and also to ascertain what is necessary to be done in order to obtain an appropriation. On my arrival at Washington, I called on General R. B. Hayes and the Hon. Benjamin Eggleston. With each of them I talked at great length on the subject. Their opinions and statements are the same. They both say that an appropriation has never been asked for; that is, that neither of them have ever been furnished with proper evidence to show or prove that such an appropriation would be of any benefit to the people.

I am, gentleman, very well acquainted with General R. B. Hayes and Ben. Eggleston. I know that they are zealous and untiring in their efforts to please their constituents, and to advance the interests of the State of Ohio. They are not only ready and willing to ask for an appropriation to complete the Louisville Canal, but they are truly anxious to do so. And so soon as they are furnished with the proper evidence, showing the beneficial results to be secured to the people from a completion of the Louisville Canal, that soon will they ask for and receive from Congress the appropriation so necessary and so much desired.

We should furnish them with statistics, showing the number of boats that stop at Louisville that would come to Cincinnati if the canal was completed, the different stages of water on the falls each month in the year, the number of boats that pass over the falls annually, and the number that are compelled to pass through the present canal at the modest price of fifty cents per ton. In fine, show to them the grand results to follow an enlargement of the Louisville Canal. We should inquire of the Louisville Canal Company concerning their financial condition from the inception of the new work up to the present date. We should find out what amount of money is necessary to the completion of the work. We should learn what or how much of the canal is owned by the Government, and how much by private individuals; what amount of bonds were used; what these bonds brought; who holds these bonds, and what they are now worth.

Let us understand who is to be benefitted by an appropriation completing the Louisville Canal, whether the Government, the people of the Ohio Valley, or some individuals who bought these bonds at half their value, and who now hold them. Let us inquire concerning the truthfulness of the report that the Government owns every dollar of the Louisville Canal, except the small sum of five hundred dollars, owned by five individuals residing in Louisville. We must also know whether these five gentlemen are favoring the completion of the Louisville Canal or not.

Gentleman, the facts we should know for a verity, and they must be in the knowledge of our Representatives before we expect them to take any steps toward securing an appropriation for the completion of the Louisville Canal. It is our duty to put our Representatives in possession of all the facts. If we do this, we may hope to receive that appropriation with which the Louisville Canal may be speedily completed. Therefore I would suggest that a committee consisting of two persons be appointed and paid by this association, to prepare statistics, and obtain all knowledge necessary for us to have; to commence their work immediately, and not to cease laboring till all the facts are laid before the people. When these facts are within their knowledge, they will understand and appreciate the great benefits to be derived from this good work. My observation teaches me that it is a want of knowledge of the importance of this thing on the part of the merchants of this city that has delayed it, and not a want of energy or surprise. When they are once conversant with all the facts, we will find that they still possess the public spirit which has ever characterized our Queen City.

I do not think it necessary to offer an argument to the members of this Association in support of this communication, but to submit it, believing, as I do, that you all desire accomplishment of this work as much as myself. I feel that it is a debt we owe ourselves, a debt we owe the country and posterity. Let us hear no growl about competition. Competition is what we want. Where there is competition there is life and animation, and where there is life and animation there is vigor, and where there is vigor there is health, happiness and prosperity. Opposition is the life of trade. As we increase our facilities for doing business, so our business increases. The past has proven this, and the past is a fair index to the future.

The man who is opposed to opposition is in favor of monopoly. And monopoly is contrary to the grand and fundamental principles of our Government, and and the spirit of our institutions. Let us have Ohio and Atlantic Steamship Companies to New Orleans, Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Let our levee extend from Deercreek to Millcreek, and be crowded with Ruths, Richmonds and Great Republics. Here we have stood for more than a quarter of a century and suffered ourselves to be surrounded by railroads, and have seen our beautiful Ohio obstructed by the erection of various bridges. And even now they are laying the foundation for one more on the falls of Louisville; the falls, which have been a serious obstruction to navigation, and a dam to the commerce of the Ohio Valley. But let us awaken to a proper sense of duty, and show to the world that we will not stay dammed. Let us have no more resolutions but have action, immediate action, and our efforts will be crowned with success.

The trade of St. Louis with the Upper Missouri country has been immense the past year, and boats have been doing very fairly. The total number that started was 62, of which 23 were side-wheelers, the rest (39) being of the stern-wheel class; 46 started for Fort Benton, one of which sunk, one wrecked, two crippled and returned for repairs; of the Benton boats 16 have returned, leaving 31 still to arrive; 37 of the boats were loaded principally with army supplies. The following were unfortunate:

1. David Watts struck a heavy floating log and returned to St. Louis for repairs. The steamer Tacony went up without freight or passengers to take on the freight and continue the trip.
2. J. H. Trover grounded at Point au Pauchet, and had to reship her cargo on the Ida Stockdale. It was subsequently found impossible to get the Trover afloat, and she was dismantled.
3. Ida Stockdale reached Fort Benton all O K, and started on her return. At Point au Pauchet found the J. H. Trover in the condition mentioned above, and, taking her cargo, returned to Benton.
4. Carrie went only to Fort Buford, when she reshipped on the Luella, and returned to this port.
5. Nora sunk and proved a total loss, near Desota. Her passengers were transferred to the Silver Lake No. 4, the boat and cargo proving a total loss. The officers and crew returned.
6. The Centralia went up with a duplicate of the Nora's cargo.
7. Deer Lodge broke a shaft near Decatur, and put her cargo on the bank and returned to this port for repairs.
8. Huntsville took a portion of a cargo at this port, and was sent up to complete the trip of the Deer Lodge.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day or night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs of symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the secreting or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and its renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and disease. In nearly all cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to their natural action, which it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewal material being deposited in proper places.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recover d from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the genera belief of the incurability of Consumption, as having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, he could cure me. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well, all the raising of my lungs having been [illegible]. My general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and are extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with his other treatment.

GEORGE FORD
PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army January, 1865, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which a learned physician pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and great difficulty in breathing, lost my appetite and was much reduced in flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my discharge I was compelled to apply to a physician of my neighborhood, and afterwards, I went to Pittsburgh to [illegible], whose remedies I used faithfully for the months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse. I was losing flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my friends advised me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases they had heard had been highly spoken of, and put myself under his treatment. He soon examined my lungs with his LUNG SOUND, and told me my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me. By following his directions closely, which I did from the time I commenced on his treatment, I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunk on away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free of pain. I am now able to do a full day's work, and I give great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM,
Turtle Creek.
PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years past, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she has been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP, which relieved her very much; I then went and got a dollar bottle, and she has taken two bottles, and has no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine for myself, and it cured me of a bad cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire it.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some three years ago was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by several physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to DR. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street.) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.
